Migrating from LiveCycle to AEM Forms

Course description: Migrating from LiveCycle to AEM Forms is NOT "easier than you think". And it's NOT something you should be pressured to do before you have time to think. This is a big deal! You need to understand all the issues before you plan your strategy for success. Transitioning is valuable, important, and doable, but it's not easy. We should know, we have witnessed 5 years of transformation failures by organizations who were told that, "It's easier than you think". Invest 1 day with us and you will save years of frustration and wasted money. We will present the technical and business realities in this easy-to-understand and compelling workshop.

Migrating from LiveCycle to AEM Forms is a 1-day, instructor-led workshop where you will learn the technology and tools in Adobe's Form product lines. Did you know that LiveCycle and AEM Forms have completely different technical architectures, application models, form types, and workflow tools? The foundations are completely different and so are the tools that Adobe built on top of the foundations.
